

CHILDREN OF TOMORROW: LYRICS

Chorus:

All the world better listen now, everybody gotta take a little time
To think about what we leave for the children of tomorrow.
All the world better listen now, everybody gotta take a little time
To share what we have today.

Verse 1:

How, can the people celebrate, every time the sun is shine, shining down yeah?
While forest fires, scorch the land and kill the crops, climate change is with us here, here and now.
One day, the wise ones say that when we've cut down all of the trees and taken the fish from the seas;
We'll finally realise, that money can't keep you alive, hear my prayer.
Let the children sing....

Chorus:

All the world better listen now, everybody gotta take a little time
To think about what we leave for the children of tomorrow.
All the world better listen now, everybody gotta take a little time
To share what we have today.

Verse 2:

And, now that climate change is here, we must work to ga-ther with friends and families.
Tell those in power, that we need them to act now, and to keep the fossil fuels in the ground.
One day, the wise ones say that when we've used up all of the oil, and poisoned the sky and the soil,
We'll finally realise, that money can't keep you alive, hear my prayer.
Let the children sing....
